

Script Consultation Services

Are you a new writer looking to take your screenplay to the next level? I offer script consultation services. Services include extensive feedback in 3 areas of screenwriting:

- Technical – I will help ensure your format is correct and that you are identifying the key script elements correctly. I will offer corrections on structure to ensure that your script looks as professional as possible. I will also proofread for spelling and grammar
- Creative - I will provide notes for your story, dialogue and pacing, which will include tips on how to ensure it is fully developing your theme, characters, and plot.
- Logistical – I will review your script to ensure it includes necessary information for your potential filming crew. I will offer suggestions on slug lines, log lines, and use of active voice to put your script in the best position possible to be pitched, sold, or submitted to festivals.

Send me a PDF of your script and I will email it back with notes and feedback.

Rates for services rendered will be $5 per 10 pages of script, rounding up to the nearest 10.
(ie: If your script is 40 pages, the cost will be $20. If your script is 53 pages, the cost will be $30.)

Why Emily Steele?

I have been writing screenplays for nearly a decade and have received multiple writing awards for several of my scripts. I am currently a judge for screenplay competitions for multiple film festivals. I have taken many screenwriting workshops and have studied under a protrack mentorship at Jacob Kruegar Studios and his Write Your Screenplay program in New York City.
